

SOCIETY and PERSONAL ACTIVITIES of WOMEN

Society

A program of exceptional merit was presented by the Music department at the Progress club Thursday afternoon under the supervision of Mrs. George Fulmer and Mrs. Guy D. Staples. Lullabies of the different nations were sung while a living picture was posed to illustrate the number. The first selection was a lullaby by Gipsies, given by a quartet including Mrs. Fulmer, Mrs. Staples, Mrs. W. E. Bryan and Mrs. J. A. Maloney. Two American songs "Time of Roses" by Del Reigo and "A Winter Lullaby" by MacDowell were given by Mrs. F. MacKibben and attractively posed by Mary Agnes Harris. The Irish lullaby was sung by Mrs. J. A. Maloney and posed by Jane Kennedy. Patricia Webster posed both for the Indian song "Invocation to the Sun God" given by Mrs. W. E. Bryan and for the Japanese lullaby sung by Mrs. Fulmer. Mary Jane Traver was a perfect model for the Swedish child posing during the song given by Mrs. J. A. Maloney. E. M. Morris gave a French lullaby by Massenet, which was posed by Mary Louise Morris. Mrs. B. J. Hette Staples and infant daughter Martha Anne posed in the Virgin lullaby sung by Mrs. J. A. Maloney. A most artistic climax for the excellent entertainment. Tea was served to 100 guests following the program, by the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Whitehall, Mrs. Russell Miller, Mrs. Orlo Deahl and Mrs. Peter Ahrens.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the formal dance given Thursday evening by the Phi Sigma sorority at the Indiana club. The original Tokyo orchestra played for dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock. The committee in charge of arrangements included Miss Helene Westervelt, Miss Mary Russ, Miss Dorothy Bruggier, Miss Evelyn Fulmer and Miss Pauline BonDurant. The officers of the sorority are Miss Florence Reamer, president; Miss Mary Hyde, secretary and Miss Adeline Major, treasurer.

The Circle of Mercy met Thursday afternoon at St. Patrick's hall. This year the circle provided 20 Christmas baskets for needy families. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially and dainty refreshments were served. This afternoon the annual Christmas party for the children at the Circle of Mercy Day Nursery will be held. A Christmas tree and distribution of gifts will feature the program. The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 11 with Mrs. James Tracy, 915 Allen st.

Owing to so many people expressing a desire to look in on the party to be given at the Oliver hotel Saturday noon for the Rescue mission which is being made possible by the fund being collected through the Tower of Babel, the board of directors of the mission wish to announce that an invitation is extended to all those who are interested in the rescue mission and who are on the mezzanine floor at the hotel for those who desire to come. Last year many representative women prominent in local social and civic circles were deeply impressed by the touching scene presented at the dinner given for the mission at the Y. M. C. A. The children will arrive at the hotel shortly after 12 as dinner will be served promptly at 12:30 in the Rotary, Turkish and Gold rooms and Ladies' parlor.

Mrs. Fred W. Keller, 815 Arch av., will entertain with a dinner Sunday as a courtesy to Miss Lois Watters whose marriage to Kenneth B. Jones will take place Dec. 26.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church held a regular meeting at 5 o'clock in the Friendship room of the church Thursday afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Monger was the leader and the program consisted of readings of negro poems of Paul Lawrence Dunbar given by Mrs. G. W. Wegner and Christmas carols sung by Mrs. J. C. Reynolds. Refreshments were served during the social hour to 24 members by the hostesses, Mrs. H. A. Tohulka, Mrs. G. A. Fuller, Mrs. W. E. Graves, Mrs. O. D. Kise, Mrs. T. P. Moyer, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. H. C. Rumpf, Mrs. W. H. Shirley and Mrs. J. F. Farham.

The Triple Four club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles VanDusen, Humboldt av. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be given on the evening of Dec. 30 at the home of Mrs. Cloyd Bestie, 912 Brookfield st. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 18 at which time Mrs. Bestie will be the hostess.

The annual election of officers was held Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Ideal Embroidery club at the home of Mrs. Edward Lebaugh, 516 S. St. Joseph st. Mrs. Maud Inwood, treasurer, Mrs. May Edwards, secretary, and Mrs. Harriet Bergeron, reporter. Following the business session the remainder of the afternoon was spent socially and with needlework, dainty refreshments being served to 18 members and guests. The next meeting will be held Jan. 11 with Mrs. Maud Inwood, 516 S. St. Joseph st.

An all day meeting of the Mary Elizabeth club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ray Terry, 921 Ninth st. Following dinner the afternoon was spent with contests, the prizes being won by Mrs. George Ralph Jordan. In two weeks the regular meeting will be held with Mrs. George Maguire, 212 N. Elm st.

Invitations have been issued by Miss Miriam Winick, Miss Dorothy Malmberg and Robert Nicely for a dancing party to be given on the evening of December 29 at Mrs. Hanlon's studio, J. M. S. Bldg.

The annual meeting of the South Bend Choral club was held at the High school and the reports for the year given, which showed a small amount in the treasury with all bills paid. George O. Thurn was elected president for the coming year, and Mrs. J. Albert Harris was chosen secretary and treasurer, and also appointed by the president to act as business manager again next year. A rehearsal will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce for the Christmas Carols which will be sung by the club at the Hotel LaSalle Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Christmas party for the girls of McHenry-Millhouse was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Emma Jane Coffing, 1811 S. St. Joseph st. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock to nine guests. The table was cleverly centered with a miniature cottage surrounded with a snow covered lawn, which revealed a Christmas tree and a tiny Santa Claus with his reindeer. The decorations of the home were also in keeping with the Christmas season. The evening was spent informally.

Donald Dunkle will entertain with a formal dinner for 16 guests at the Hotel LaSalle on Christmas night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Mildred Whitmer returned Thursday evening from Milwaukee, Downer, Milwaukee, to spend the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Whitmer, 754 Leland av.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davies and daughter of Chicago will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Robertson, Riverside dr.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Clark, 807 E. Jefferson blvd., have returned from Chicago where they attended the opera.

Miss Mildred Lamb, a student at Oberlin college, is the guest of Miss Minnie Goller, 835 N. Lafayette blvd.

Carleton Turk, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Turk, 516 E. DuBail av. is home from Northwestern university for the holidays.

Miss Dorothy McManis, who is attending Trinity College at Washington, D. C., arrived today to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. McManis, S. Taylor st.

Miss Theresa Salinger, who is attending school at Chevy Chase, Washington, D. C., and Ezra Salinger, who is attending Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass., will return today to spend the holidays with their mother, Mrs. Rae Salinger, 214 E. South st.

Mr. and Mrs. S. McManis of Holland, Manitoba, Can., are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McManis, 834 Portage av.

Matthew Lamberty, Hug apartments, has gone to Evanston, Ill., to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lamberty and will go to Kansas where he will enter St. Mary's college January 8.

Garrett Walsh, Jr., is spending the holidays with relatives in Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. V. B. McGrew of Chicago is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Crabb, 1254 N. Mead st. Mr. McGrew will arrive Saturday to spend Christmas.

Margaret MacGregor returns this evening from Grafton Hall Ford du Lac, Wis., to spend the holidays with her parents.

Garment Repairing, B. B. Cleaners, adv-354-361.

At Wheelock's

This Store is ready for belated buyers. Here is an unsurpassed stock from which to make your last minute selections. Appropriate gifts can be found for every one on your list.

These Serving and Baking Dishes make practical gifts.

Pyrex Glass Pie Dish in nickel plated frame, in neat pierced design, Special, $2.95.

Pyrex Glass Covered Casserole in nickel plated pierced frame, 8-inch size, Special, $3.45.

Narcissus Bulbs and Bulb Bowls make attractive gifts.

Pretty green and brown pottery Bowls with three Bulbs, complete, at 50c and 75c.

Jet black pottery Bowls with three Bulbs, 3 sizes, at 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Narcissus Bulbs, separately, 5c each.

Sheffield Silver Table Ware at Special Prices.

Sandwich Trays in beautiful hammered and pierced design, Special, $3.95. Oblong Roll Trays, $2.95, $3.95. Footed Sugar and Creamers, gold lined, $5.00 pair. Cracker and Cheese Dish, $3.95. Water Pitcher, $9.75. Footed Comports, $4.95.

Pretty Desk or Dresser Lamps at Special Prices—Mahogany standard with parchment shade, Special, $2.45. Mahogany standard with silk shade, Special, $2.95. Metal polychrome standard with shade to match with silk panels, Special, $3.95.

Toys, Dolls, Books, Games—Everything to help make the children's Christmas, is on display in Toyland.

Entire Basement Salesroom

George H. Wheelock & Company

Revelations of A Wife by ADELE GARRISON

THE DISCOVERY MOTHER MADE

Mother Graham's emotional transition as hard to follow as Katie's. I knew perfectly well that the real cause back of the angry, nervous outburst which had culminated in her slapping of Junior, was her wrath against me. But in her hysterical apology to me over the sobbing child there had been no trace of anger. Instead, her poignant regret was pitiful in its meekness, and I hastened to comfort her.

"What nonsense, Mother!" I said in as matter-of-fact manner as I could manage. "Don't you suppose I know how you idolize the child? Besides, you had a great deal of provocation. He was very naughty, indeed."

I made my voice properly reproving for Junior's ears. With the blissful forgetfulness of young childhood he had hushed his sobs and was regarding me curiously from his grandmother's arms. But if I had cherished any idea that this speech would solve my mother-in-law's feelings I was doomed to swift disappointment. With another of her lightning-like changes, she turned a frowning face toward me.

"Well, if he was, whose fault is it, I'd like to know!" she demanded. "He's always tagging around after that ape of a Katie, and she's the sanest thing that ever walked on two legs. It's a good thing she was out of the way. She probably would have stuck a breadknife into me. Not that I don't deserve it."

She buried her face in Junior's curls with a convulsive sniff or two, while I mentally echoed her satisfaction that Katie had not witnessed the unusual grandmotherly disciplining of Junior.

Mother Graham's Decision. "But I haven't any time to waste here," Mother Graham declared abruptly, setting Junior down with a kiss. "I'm going to give Richard's room a thorough overhauling. Of course, you'll think it's none of my business, but it's a crime the way you neglect that room. I can tell you I would have been thought pretty strackled if I had let my husband's room go undusted."

"Did you have separate rooms in those days?" I asked innocently. "No," she snapped. "What's that got to do with it. I'd like to know?"

"A great deal, I think," I answered mildly. "Dick and I always have respected each other's wishes concerning the arrangement and the care of our rooms. He knows that I like my room always in order, and he is always most careful about littering it up."

We must write the music whatever the song.

Whatever its rhyme or metre, And if it is glad, we make it sad. And if sweet, we make it sweeter."

Q. What would be a good menu for a Christmas luncheon and appropriate table decorations?

A. The table may be decorated with a tiny Christmas tree, Santa Claus favors, etc., at each plate, and it is also effective to have tiny Christmas candles lighted at each plate, and small appropriate gifts. The following menu is suggested: Tomato bouillon with whipped cream, strips of toast, creamed or sliced turkey, cranberry jelly, potatoes stuffed with green peas, candied salad, crackers. Christmas plum pudding with hard sauce, coffee, red and green mints.

Candlelight salad is made as follows—The foundation (for candle holder) is a slice of pineapple. The taper is half a banana stuck in the center of the pineapple, with a bright cherry perched on top for the flame. From the center of which a tiny shred of cocoanut forms the wick. The melted wax which trickles from the side of the candle is salad dressing.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Q. Is it dangerous to cook tomatoes in aluminum pans?

A. No, cooking tomatoes in aluminum pans is not poisonous as many people suppose.

Prudence is that virtue by which we discern what is proper to be done under the various circumstances of time and place.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Revelations of A Wife by ADELE GARRISON

THE DISCOVERY MOTHER MADE

Mother Graham's emotional transition as hard to follow as Katie's. I knew perfectly well that the real cause back of the angry, nervous outburst which had culminated in her slapping of Junior, was her wrath against me. But in her hysterical apology to me over the sobbing child there had been no trace of anger. Instead, her poignant regret was pitiful in its meekness, and I hastened to comfort her.

"What nonsense, Mother!" I said in as matter-of-fact manner as I could manage. "Don't you suppose I know how you idolize the child? Besides, you had a great deal of provocation. He was very naughty, indeed."

I made my voice properly reproving for Junior's ears. With the blissful forgetfulness of young childhood he had hushed his sobs and was regarding me curiously from his grandmother's arms. But if I had cherished any idea that this speech would solve my mother-in-law's feelings I was doomed to swift disappointment. With another of her lightning-like changes, she turned a frowning face toward me.

"Well, if he was, whose fault is it, I'd like to know!" she demanded. "He's always tagging around after that ape of a Katie, and she's the sanest thing that ever walked on two legs. It's a good thing she was out of the way. She probably would have stuck a breadknife into me. Not that I don't deserve it."

She buried her face in Junior's curls with a convulsive sniff or two, while I mentally echoed her satisfaction that Katie had not witnessed the unusual grandmotherly disciplining of Junior.

Mother Graham's Decision. "But I haven't any time to waste here," Mother Graham declared abruptly, setting Junior down with a kiss. "I'm going to give Richard's room a thorough overhauling. Of course, you'll think it's none of my business, but it's a crime the way you neglect that room. I can tell you I would have been thought pretty strackled if I had let my husband's room go undusted."

"Did you have separate rooms in those days?" I asked innocently. "No," she snapped. "What's that got to do with it. I'd like to know?"

"A great deal, I think," I answered mildly. "Dick and I always have respected each other's wishes concerning the arrangement and the care of our rooms. He knows that I like my room always in order, and he is always most careful about littering it up."

We must write the music whatever the song.

Whatever its rhyme or metre, And if it is glad, we make it sad. And if sweet, we make it sweeter."

Q. What would be a good menu for a Christmas luncheon and appropriate table decorations?

A. The table may be decorated with a tiny Christmas tree, Santa Claus favors, etc., at each plate, and it is also effective to have tiny Christmas candles lighted at each plate, and small appropriate gifts. The following menu is suggested: Tomato bouillon with whipped cream, strips of toast, creamed or sliced turkey, cranberry jelly, potatoes stuffed with green peas, candied salad, crackers. Christmas plum pudding with hard sauce, coffee, red and green mints.

Candlelight salad is made as follows—The foundation (for candle holder) is a slice of pineapple. The taper is half a banana stuck in the center of the pineapple, with a bright cherry perched on top for the flame. From the center of which a tiny shred of cocoanut forms the wick. The melted wax which trickles from the side of the candle is salad dressing.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Q. Is it dangerous to cook tomatoes in aluminum pans?

A. No, cooking tomatoes in aluminum pans is not poisonous as many people suppose.

Prudence is that virtue by which we discern what is proper to be done under the various circumstances of time and place.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Revelations of A Wife by ADELE GARRISON

THE DISCOVERY MOTHER MADE

Mother Graham's emotional transition as hard to follow as Katie's. I knew perfectly well that the real cause back of the angry, nervous outburst which had culminated in her slapping of Junior, was her wrath against me. But in her hysterical apology to me over the sobbing child there had been no trace of anger. Instead, her poignant regret was pitiful in its meekness, and I hastened to comfort her.

"What nonsense, Mother!" I said in as matter-of-fact manner as I could manage. "Don't you suppose I know how you idolize the child? Besides, you had a great deal of provocation. He was very naughty, indeed."

I made my voice properly reproving for Junior's ears. With the blissful forgetfulness of young childhood he had hushed his sobs and was regarding me curiously from his grandmother's arms. But if I had cherished any idea that this speech would solve my mother-in-law's feelings I was doomed to swift disappointment. With another of her lightning-like changes, she turned a frowning face toward me.

"Well, if he was, whose fault is it, I'd like to know!" she demanded. "He's always tagging around after that ape of a Katie, and she's the sanest thing that ever walked on two legs. It's a good thing she was out of the way. She probably would have stuck a breadknife into me. Not that I don't deserve it."

She buried her face in Junior's curls with a convulsive sniff or two, while I mentally echoed her satisfaction that Katie had not witnessed the unusual grandmotherly disciplining of Junior.

Mother Graham's Decision. "But I haven't any time to waste here," Mother Graham declared abruptly, setting Junior down with a kiss. "I'm going to give Richard's room a thorough overhauling. Of course, you'll think it's none of my business, but it's a crime the way you neglect that room. I can tell you I would have been thought pretty strackled if I had let my husband's room go undusted."

"Did you have separate rooms in those days?" I asked innocently. "No," she snapped. "What's that got to do with it. I'd like to know?"

"A great deal, I think," I answered mildly. "Dick and I always have respected each other's wishes concerning the arrangement and the care of our rooms. He knows that I like my room always in order, and he is always most careful about littering it up."

We must write the music whatever the song.

Whatever its rhyme or metre, And if it is glad, we make it sad. And if sweet, we make it sweeter."

Q. What would be a good menu for a Christmas luncheon and appropriate table decorations?

A. The table may be decorated with a tiny Christmas tree, Santa Claus favors, etc., at each plate, and it is also effective to have tiny Christmas candles lighted at each plate, and small appropriate gifts. The following menu is suggested: Tomato bouillon with whipped cream, strips of toast, creamed or sliced turkey, cranberry jelly, potatoes stuffed with green peas, candied salad, crackers. Christmas plum pudding with hard sauce, coffee, red and green mints.

Candlelight salad is made as follows—The foundation (for candle holder) is a slice of pineapple. The taper is half a banana stuck in the center of the pineapple, with a bright cherry perched on top for the flame. From the center of which a tiny shred of cocoanut forms the wick. The melted wax which trickles from the side of the candle is salad dressing.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Q. Is it dangerous to cook tomatoes in aluminum pans?

A. No, cooking tomatoes in aluminum pans is not poisonous as many people suppose.

Prudence is that virtue by which we discern what is proper to be done under the various circumstances of time and place.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned over to the Civil Service Retirement Fund is $4,379,000.00.

Revelations of A Wife by ADELE GARRISON

THE DISCOVERY MOTHER MADE

Mother Graham's emotional transition as hard to follow as Katie's. I knew perfectly well that the real cause back of the angry, nervous outburst which had culminated in her slapping of Junior, was her wrath against me. But in her hysterical apology to me over the sobbing child there had been no trace of anger. Instead, her poignant regret was pitiful in its meekness, and I hastened to comfort her.

"What nonsense, Mother!" I said in as matter-of-fact manner as I could manage. "Don't you suppose I know how you idolize the child? Besides, you had a great deal of provocation. He was very naughty, indeed."

I made my voice properly reproving for Junior's ears. With the blissful forgetfulness of young childhood he had hushed his sobs and was regarding me curiously from his grandmother's arms. But if I had cherished any idea that this speech would solve my mother-in-law's feelings I was doomed to swift disappointment. With another of her lightning-like changes, she turned a frowning face toward me.

"Well, if he was, whose fault is it, I'd like to know!" she demanded. "He's always tagging around after that ape of a Katie, and she's the sanest thing that ever walked on two legs. It's a good thing she was out of the way. She probably would have stuck a breadknife into me. Not that I don't deserve it."

She buried her face in Junior's curls with a convulsive sniff or two, while I mentally echoed her satisfaction that Katie had not witnessed the unusual grandmotherly disciplining of Junior.

Mother Graham's Decision. "But I haven't any time to waste here," Mother Graham declared abruptly, setting Junior down with a kiss. "I'm going to give Richard's room a thorough overhauling. Of course, you'll think it's none of my business, but it's a crime the way you neglect that room. I can tell you I would have been thought pretty strackled if I had let my husband's room go undusted."

"Did you have separate rooms in those days?" I asked innocently. "No," she snapped. "What's that got to do with it. I'd like to know?"

"A great deal, I think," I answered mildly. "Dick and I always have respected each other's wishes concerning the arrangement and the care of our rooms. He knows that I like my room always in order, and he is always most careful about littering it up."

We must write the music whatever the song.

Whatever its rhyme or metre, And if it is glad, we make it sad. And if sweet, we make it sweeter."

Q. What would be a good menu for a Christmas luncheon and appropriate table decorations?

A. The table may be decorated with a tiny Christmas tree, Santa Claus favors, etc., at each plate, and it is also effective to have tiny Christmas candles lighted at each plate, and small appropriate gifts. The following menu is suggested: Tomato bouillon with whipped cream, strips of toast, creamed or sliced turkey, cranberry jelly, potatoes stuffed with green peas, candied salad, crackers. Christmas plum pudding with hard sauce, coffee, red and green mints.

Candlelight salad is made as follows—The foundation (for candle holder) is a slice of pineapple. The taper is half a banana stuck in the center of the pineapple, with a bright cherry perched on top for the flame. From the center of which a tiny shred of cocoanut forms the wick. The melted wax which trickles from the side of the candle is salad dressing.

Q. What are requirements for a dining car steward?

A. The only necessary education for a dining car steward is experience in handling hotel supplies, knowledge of cooking and knowledge of handling clerks. He must be younger than 45 years as the railroads do not employ new hands over 45 years of age. The railroad bonds a steward for $1000 but this does not cost the steward anything.

Q. What was the total appropriation for the Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923?

A. The total appropriation for Prohibition Enforcement Service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 is $9,250.00 and the total expenditures up to the present time including the amount turned